"The operations of Indianapolis Juvenile Correctional Facility requires a strong leader with experience and an outstanding skill set. I am excited to welcome Steve in his new capacity at the juvenile facility."

J. David Donahue, Commissioner

INDIANAPOLIS (January 18, 2006) - Indiana Department of Correction today announced the appointment of Steve McCauley as Superintendent of the Indianapolis Juvenile Correctional Facility in Marion County.

"McCauley has a broad range of experience in corrections at several facilities around the state. He is well-qualified to manage the co-located juvenile facility and provide leadership," said J. David Donahue, Commissioner of Correction. "The operations of Indianapolis Juvenile Correctional Facility requires a strong leader with experience and an outstanding skill set. I am excited to welcome Steve in his new capacity at the juvenile facility."

Most recently, McCauley served as Assistant Superintendent at Rockville Correctional Facility. He began his career at Pendleton Correctional Facility as a Correctional Officer in 1976. Since then, he has held various positions including Classification Analyst, Correctional Counselor, Supervisor of Classification and Regional Director of Operations for the Department.

Mr. McCauley has a BS in Political Science and a Masters of Public Administration from Ball State University.

In his new role, effective January 29, Steve will directly report to Southern Regional Director, Rondle Anderson.
